

Y'All R Real Ones: Middle School Moments

Discussion guide for using short film with Teacher Candidates

Table of Contents

- Pre-Readings
- Discussion Questions
- Suggested Activities
- Research Resources (TBA)
- School Description (TBA)
- Filmmaker Statement (TBA)

Pre-Readings

Suggested reading prior to viewing the film.

Articles

- Williams, J.L., Mims, L., & Johnson, H.E. (2019) Young adolescent development.
https://education.virginia.edu/sites/default/files/files/Youth_Nex_files/AR_MS_BRIEF1_D.pdf
- Reborá, A. (2020). How teens' brains are different. Educational Leadership, 77(8), 58–59. https://files.ascd.org/staticfiles/ascd/pdf/journals/ed_lead/el202005_brain.pdf

Books

- Bishop, P. A., & Harrison, L. M. (2021). The successful middle school: This we believe. AMLE.
- Brinegar, K. M., Harrison, L. M., & Hurd, E. (Eds.) (2019). Equity & Cultural Responsiveness in the Middle Grades (see especially pp. 3-21).

Discussion Questions

After viewing the 10 min film, engage class in discussion. Ask teacher candidates to respond to each question with evidence from the film to back up their responses. This can be a whole class discussion or students can be divided into smaller groups and then reconvene to discuss together.

Question 1:

What stands out to you about the young adolescent experiences highlighted in this film?

Possible Discussion Topics:

- Friendships, peer relations, drama
- Social media
- Social emotional learning
- Romantic interests
- Relationships with adults
- Choices
- Mistakes
- Accountability

Follow-Up Questions:

- In the film, students talk about friendship and friend groups, making friends, and sticking with a group of friends. How important are friendships? What do you believe the role of friend groups play in the lives of young adolescents?
- What did you notice about friendships, peer relations, drama?
- What can you infer about the role of social media in young adolescents' lives?
- What did you notice about romantic interests?
- What can you recall from the film about student choices? Mistakes?
- How were students held accountable for their choices?
- How might such experiences impact young adolescents' schooling? Personal lives?
- How might these experiences impact the way you teach and build relationships with students?
- Based on students' experiences, what might be good topics to include in advisory?

Question 2:

What developmental characteristics and social identities of young adolescents are present in the film?

Possible Discussion Topics:

- Physical characteristics
- Intellectual characteristics
- Moral characteristics
- Psychological characteristics
- Social-emotional characteristics
- Social identities

Follow-Up Questions:

- In what ways do the various characteristics of young adolescent development play out in the lives of middle school students?
- In what ways do students exhibit social emotional learning and skills (e.g., self-awareness, self-management, responsible decision making, social awareness and relationship skills)?
- What social identities did you observe or hear about in the film?
- What are the implications for being able to best teach and reach young adolescents?

Question 3:

How would you describe the school environment in the film?

Possible Discussion Topics:

- Physical environment
- Schedule
- Resources
- Unstructured times (class transitions, recess, before/after school)

Follow-Up Questions:

- What did you notice about the physical environment?
- What did you notice about the school's schedule? How does it reflect school priorities?
- What types of resources did you notice?
- How does the school convey a sense of inclusivity and belonging?
- What do you recall about the unstructured times of day (e.g., class transitions, recess, before and after school)? What roles, if any, do such times play in young adolescents' lives?
- What can you infer about how school environment may influence teaching and learning?

Question 4:

What did you notice about teaching and learning at the school in the film?

Possible Discussion Topics:

- Teacher-student relationships
- Classes
- Curriculum
- Responsive Instruction
- Teaching strategies/methods
- Academic expectations
- Behavioral expectations

Follow-Up Questions:

- In what ways do teachers foster relationships with students in the film?
- What can you infer about classes at this school? Curriculum? Teaching strategies and methods?

- What is expected of students, academically and behaviorally? What kinds of expectations support developmentally and culturally responsive practices?

Question 5:

What choices do young adolescents face in middle school?

Possible Discussion Topics:

- Peer groups
- Social media
- Behavior
- Romantic interests
- Academics

Follow-Up Questions:

- What can you recall from the film about student choices (positive and negative)?
- In what ways do peers influence the choices students make in the film?
- How can teachers help students practice making decisions in a healthy and supported environment?

Question 6:

What role do peer groups play in young adolescents' lives?

Possible Discussion Topics:

- Identity
- Belonging
- Decision-making
- Social Media

Follow-up Questions:

- What did you notice about diversity of friendships and peer groups?
- Why is a sense of belonging to a peer group important to young adolescents?
- In what ways may educators support the development of positive peer relationships?

Suggested Activities

Activity Option #1: Middle School Experiences

Before Viewing the Film:

- Have each teacher candidate create a visual collage of his/her/their middle school experience to share with the class.
- Have each teacher candidate share his/her/their collage.
- As a class, reflect on the experiences shared. Ask the class to identify commonalities among teacher candidates' middle school experiences.
- Have each teacher candidate create a Venn diagram (see Figure 1) and fill in the left side of the Venn diagram with the list of common experiences of middle school just discussed.

While Viewing the Film:

- Ask teacher candidates to play close attention to the various types of young adolescent experiences highlighted in the film.

After Viewing the Film:

- Have teacher candidates work in pairs and come to a consensus on the experiences represented in the film. Have each pair partner with another pair and repeat the process.
- Have each quartet share out with the class. As a class, complete the right side of the Venn diagram without duplicating responses.
- Have the entire class discuss the commonalities and differences between teacher candidates' collective experiences in middle school and the experiences of the young adolescents in the film. Complete the center portion of the Venn diagram.
- Ask teacher candidates to think about and write down what these findings may mean for himself/herself/themselves as they prepare to become a middle school educator. Have teacher candidates pair up and share their responses. Conclude with a class discussion on the importance of truly understanding young adolescents.

Figure 1. Middle School Experiences Venn Diagram

Activity Option #2: KWLQ

Before Viewing the Film:

- Have each teacher candidate create a KWLQ chart (see Figure 2)
- Ask teacher candidates to write down everything that they know or think they know about young adolescents and middle school.
- Ask teacher candidates to write down what they want to know about young adolescents and middle school.
- Engage the class in a Stand and Share activity where teacher candidates share what they know about young adolescents and middle school (K column of the KWLQ chart). Make sure all ideas have been shared. Create a comprehensive classroom list on the board. Repeat this process for the “W” column of the KWLQ chart.

While Viewing the Film:

- Have teacher candidates write down what they learned about young adolescents and make note if it answers anything in their “W” column.

After Viewing the Film:

- Have teacher candidates complete “L” column of their KWLQ chart.
- Repeat the Stand and Share process to create a comprehensive classroom list on the board for what teacher candidates learned (L column of KWLQ chart). Engage in class discussion about “L” column, pointing out connections to “K” and “W” columns, as appropriate. Questions for whole class discussion:
 - a. Did you learn something new about young adolescents and middle school?
 - b. Did you learn anything that contradicts what you thought you knew about young adolescents and middle school?
- Ask teacher candidates to write down questions they still have about young adolescents and middle school in “Q” column. Have teacher candidates share their remaining questions about young adolescents and middle school. Make sure all ideas have been shared. Create a comprehensive classroom list on the board. Determine the most salient questions and engage the class in a conversation using the film to support the conversation.

K KNOW	W WANT TO KNOW	L LEARNED/ OBSERVED	Q QUESTIONS

Y'All R Real Ones: Middle School Moments

A documentary short created as part of the Changing By The Minute documentary tool kit, providing an asset-based view of early adolescence. These resources are intended to help professionals, students, and families think optimistically and creatively about the middle school years with the hope of alleviating some of the stress and distress experienced by early adolescents.

Film Credits

Producer/Director
Camilla Calamandrei

Editors
Bernadine Colish
Camilla Calamandrei

Composers
Joel Goodman
Aaron Srdoc

Designer & Animator
Garry Waller

Colorist
Courtney Feemster

Sound editor & re-recording mixer
Neil Benezra

Dialogue Editor
Alex Noyes

Advisors
Penny Bishop, EdD
Lisa Harrison, PhD
Niobe Way, PhD
Ron Taffel, PhD

Discussion Guide Credits

Research / Writing Team
Cheryl R. Ellerbrock, PhD (lead)
Jenise L. Freeland
Ashlee Highfill

Advisor
Penny Bishop, EdD

Graphic Design
Scott Sawyer

Organizations Using These Materials

SCHOOL of EDUCATION and HUMAN DEVELOPMENT
YOUTH-NEX

Made possible in part by contributions from:

Middle Grades Collaborative

New York State Council on the Arts with the support of the Office of the Governor and the New York State Legislature

Lefkowsky Family Foundation

Completed with the support of the Women Make Movies Production Assistance Program

This publication is copyrighted. No part of this publication may be reproduced in any manner without written permission, except for brief quotations for review purposes only.

© 2022 Rolling River Films
All rights reserved.